Quasimidi have released an expansion pack for SONAR 7 that included the mics and shells. The 4mm drums, for example, were all loaded onto a much more expensive and complex system, which called for a separate in-ear monitor or headphones that cost several hundred dollars. For a fraction of that cost, the SONAR 7 10mm drum system offered an in-ear drum monitor that was far superior to anything on the market. At 60 and 70 psi, there was very little breakup in the sound. The head itself is made of a highly resonant material, making it great for hard rock and metal. They are a near drop dead uniform, making them suitable for many styles of music. On the high side, the bass response is outstanding, with great presence and punch. They are relatively light, with just 3.4 lb of weight. Source: Headshot.com. The original Superior Drummer 2 may
